

She Is Always There

A Pagan Lullabye

Edward L. Stauff

range

1,4. Tuck in your quilt that warmed be - fore the fire on the
2. Yes - ter - day you tried to fly but on - ly scraped your
3. To - mor - row if it's sun - ny we'll go swim - ming in the hearth, the wa - ter comes in eve - ning dew to wet the grass and trees. Now knees. I saw you fall, my tears fell too as I heard you call my name. bay, If it's win - dy then we'll let a kite soar on a string, all Her day - time crea - tures like your - self must go to earth while Af - ter lunch you plan - ted flow - ers while I plan - ted trees. What If it rains we'll stay in - side and make a pot of clay, What - through the win - dow whis - pers in a gen - tle cool - ing breeze. May the will you do to - mor - row, dear, to set my heart a - flame? ev - er else, at night we'll ga - ther 'round the fire and sing.

fire in your heart— warm the wa - ters of your soul— so this bo - dy made of earth— may on your dreams soar through the air. Of ev - 'ry - thing we are a part,— and our Mo - ther keeps it whole,— from birth to death to birth a - gain, know that She is al - ways— there.